[Announcer]: On the French Riviera- where the rich and famous play; Spike and Don spent a very pleasant day. While together, the time they were spending-a matter of millions in court was pending. Now, when Massey first won their appeal-it was Spike's vote that sealed the deal. Justice is blind but you can see Spike showed bad judgment in hearing this plea.

Spike has recused but what will it take for the justice himself to admit his mistake?

You decide how this story ends. Is justice for all or just between friends?
