Database Implementation Status

Oklahoma has used a hybrid voter registration database since 1990.² County election officials input data directly into the statewide database, the Oklahoma Election Management System (“OEMS”), but can only view information for their own county. Oklahoma is currently planning changes to the system to allow county officials to view the entire statewide database.³

Entering Voter Registration Information

Who inputs voter registration information? The secretary of each county election board is responsible for ensuring that information from voter registration forms from that jurisdiction is reviewed and entered into the statewide system.⁴

What happens to voter registration forms submitted at state registration agencies? Forms received by the Department of Safety (“DOS”) or another voter registration agency are sent weekly by mail to the State Election Board.⁵ The State Election Board then sends the original forms to the appropriate county election board for review and entry, at least once a week.⁶

How are most forms submitted? Oklahoma reported that in 2004, 32% of forms were submitted by mail, 40% were submitted in person to election officials, 26% were submitted at the DMV, and 2% were submitted at another voter registration agency.⁷

Voter Registration Form

The relevant portions of the voter registration form are included at the end of this section.

Note: Although the current Oklahoma voter registration form does not indicate that the applicant may submit the number of a non-driver identification card, state law suggests that such identification numbers are acceptable.⁸

Processing of Forms Without Identifying Numbers

How will the state treat an application with an affirmative indication that the applicant has no valid identifying number? Oklahoma’s form does not clearly state how an applicant should indicate that she has no valid identifying number.

How will the state treat an application without an identifying number and without an affirmative indication that the applicant has no such number? If uncorrected (see below), the application will be rejected.⁹

Note: although Oklahoma regulations provide that Social Security digits are only required if the applicant has not submitted a driver’s license number, the same regulations also state that the statewide voter registration system “automatically applies a rejection code . . . if the last four digits of the applicant’s SSN are missing.”¹⁰

How will the state treat an application listing an identifying number that is either incomplete or illegible? If uncorrected (see below), the application will be rejected.

Matching Against Motor Vehicle and Social Security Records

Oklahoma does not attempt to match information on voter registration forms with information in the motor vehicles or Social Security databases for voter registration purposes. The state has no imminent plans to create a process for verifying information using identifying numbers.

Note: Oklahoma will attempt to match each applicant’s street address against a database of valid street addresses; if no match can be found, the application will be rejected.¹¹

Notice and Opportunity to Resolve Errors

Does the applicant have the opportunity to correct a missing or incomplete identifying number, without submitting a new form? Yes. The applicant may correct missing or incomplete information within 60 days of notification, as long as the correction arrives before the voter registration deadline.

Does the applicant have the opportunity to resolve a failed match? Not applicable.

If information on an otherwise timely application is corrected after the voter registration deadline, is the correction timely? No.

Description of notice and correction process: The state will attempt to notify by mail an applicant whose identifying number is missing, incomplete, or illegible. The mailing will include a request for the corrected information, with a space for the applicant to return the information to the appropriate county election board. The applicant may provide this corrected information within 60 days of the mailing of the rejection notice, as long as the information is received before the voter registration deadline.¹²

Identification Requirements at the Polls

Who must provide identification at the polls? A first-time voter who registered by mail and who has not already provided identification must provide identification at the polls.¹³

Forms of ID:

1st-time voters registering by mail:	current and valid photo ID voter identification card current utility bill w/ name, address bank statement w/ name, address government check w/ name, address paycheck w/ name, address other gov’t document w/ name, address

What forms of identification are accepted? Identification may “include, but shall not be limited to,” current and valid photo ID, a voter identification card, or a copy of a current utility bill, bank statement, government check, paycheck, or other government document that shows the voter’s name and address.¹⁴

What are the consequences of failing to show identification? The voter may cast a provisional ballot.¹⁵ The ballot will be counted if the voter properly applied to register, including all necessary information on the form, and if the last name, date of birth, and identifying number, if available, on the provisional ballot form match the information in the statewide voter registration database.¹⁶
