The terms in this section shall be construed consistently with the same or similar terms in 18 U.S.C. § 593.

This section shall not be read to permit any conduct prohibited by 18 U.S.C. § 593.

Section 3. Interference by administrative employees of federal, state, or local governments.

Whoever, being a person employed in any administrative position by the United States, or by any department or agency thereof, or by the State of [insert state name], or any political subdivision, municipality, or agency thereof, or agency of such political subdivision or municipality (including any corporation owned or controlled by the State of [insert state name] or by any such political subdivision, municipality, or agency), in connection with any activity which is financed in whole or in part by loans or grants made by the United States or the State of [insert state name], or any department or agency thereof, uses his or her official authority for the purpose of interfering with the nomination or the election of any candidate for federal, state, or local office, and thereby acts in violation of federal law, shall be fined under this chapter or imprisoned not more than one year, or both.

This section shall not prohibit or make unlawful any act by any officer or employee of any educational or research institution, establishment, agency, or system which is supported in whole or in part by any state or political subdivision thereof, or by the District of Columbia or by any Territory or Possession of the United States; or by any recognized religious, philanthropic or cultural organization.

Section 4. Civil enforcement of prohibitions on troops or armed government presence at polls, interference by armed forces, and interference by administrative employees of federal, state, or local governments.

A person aggrieved by a violation of this act may enforce the provisions of this act in a suit in equity. A prevailing plaintiff in such an action shall recover reasonable attorney's fees, reasonable expert fees, reasonable litigation expenses, and all such fees as are appropriate as part of the costs to be determined by a court of competent jurisdiction.

An election officer holding an election or conducting a canvass may enforce the provisions of this act and may institute an action for equitable relief on behalf of an aggrieved person who is in the officer's jurisdiction or is eligible to vote in the officer's jurisdiction.

The attorney general may enforce the provisions of this act and may institute for the state, or in the name of the state, an action for equitable relief, including an application for a temporary or permanent injunction, restraining order, or other order.

A suit brought by an election officer holding an election or conducting a canvass or by the attorney general under this section does not preclude a contemporaneous private suit by an aggrieved person to enforce the provisions of this act.

The provisions of this act are cumulative and shall not be construed as restricting the application of any other law, including, but not limited to, the application of a criminal law to a person whose conduct violates this act.

Actions brought pursuant to this act must be subject to expedited pretrial and trial proceedings and receive an automatic calendar preference.

Section 5. Severability.

If any clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part of this act shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. It is hereby declared to be the intent of the legislature that this act would have been enacted even if such invalid provisions had not been included herein.
