Good Morning ███████

Thank you for all that you do to keep the families of LA safe.

We'd love to get your feedback on our software and see how it may benefit you and the LAPD.

We work with numerous other law enforcement agencies and their intelligence and investigations teams across the country looking across 200 languages, leveraging over 50 different data sources, billions of blogs and message boards, as well as the deep and dark web to bring their teams filtered results to help them with threats and investigations.

Are you available next week for a demo?

Thanks again,

Jon
