GEORGIA EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AND HOMELAND SECURITY AGENCY

BRIAN P. KEMP
GOVERNOR

JAMES C. STALLINGS
DIRECTOR

May 25, 2021

Georgia Emergency Management and
Homeland Security Agency
Atlanta, Fulton County, Georgia
Promising Practices- Single Project Track
$100,000.00

Georgia Emergency Management and Homeland Security Agency (GEMA/HS) seeks to address the growing problem of radicalization as it relates to homeland security issues and terrorism. With the ever growing access to social media platforms and the ability to communicate with people all over the world, GEMA/HS would design a program aimed at awareness, identification, and reporting of radicalized behavior.

A local prevention framework is needed to reach all segments of the local society to ensure a variety of objectives are met. Achieving this framework requires significant and continued stakeholder engagement at the state and local level to build transparent and trusted relations among the whole of society. Such relationships reduce risk, enhance resilience, ensure information sharing, and fulfill requests for service. Building and sustaining these relationships is therefore a core goal of all prevention frameworks.

GEMA/HS would focus efforts on training law enforcement to ultimately distribute materials and engage in community partners in an in-depth training program. This would include correctional facilities, schools, and civic groups.

1. Needs Assessment

The 2020 Georgia Threat and Hazard Identification and Risk Assessment (THIRA) and Stakeholder Preparedness Review (SPR) identified interdiction and disruption, intelligence and information sharing, planning, and operational coordination as core capabilities with significant gaps. The rise in domestic violent extremism (DVE) highlights the need for additional personnel, training, equipment, and multi-jurisdictional coordination to combat domestic violent extremism. Addressing these resource needs will strengthen Georgia's ability to effectively prevent, protect against, deter, mitigate, and respond to acts of terrorism by DVE.

In the 2020 Homeland Threat Assessment, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) stated that racially and ethnically motivated domestic violent extremists remain the most persistent and lethal threats. Similarly, a November 2020 analysis by the Armed Conflict Location & Event Data Project (ACLED) ranked Georgia as one of five states at highest risk for domestic violent extremism conflict. Georgia's history with the birth of modern-day white supremacist organizations at Stone Mountain in contrast to Atlanta's title as the Cradle of the Civil Rights Movement creates a unique environment that must be closely monitored to ensure public safety.

The Georgia Emergency Management and Homeland Security Agency (GEMA/HS) maintains an intelligence group with federal, state, and local partners to fill an interdiction and disruption capability gap relating to DVE. The primary focus of this unit is to inform law enforcement, government officials, and private sector partners on threats related to DVE, critical infrastructure and key resources, and school safety, among other things.

To address capability gaps in Interdiction and Disruption from the 2020 THIRA/SPR, GEMA/HS proposes the development of a train-the-trainer course to be deployed to local law enforcement partners. This course will be developed in accordance with DHS research and guidelines for addressing and combating domestic violent extremism. Ultimately the goal is for local law enforcement groups to engage with their communities to highlight behaviors and suspicious activities of concern to improve reporting. This community engagement would be aimed at all 159 counties across Georgia with the goal of providing actionable, community specific public information to approximately 10.75 million residents.

Consistent with the Department of Homeland Security's (DHS) Strategic Framework for Countering Terrorism and Targeted Violence (Strategic Framework), combating DVE in Georgia will address all four goals identified in the Strategic Framework. These goals include understanding the evolving threat through specialized knowledge, preventing hostile actors from exploiting the Nation's trade, Immigration, and travel systems, preventing terrorism and targeted violence, and enhancing US infrastructure protections and community preparedness.

2. Program Design

- Problem Statement: Georgia Emergency Management and Homeland Security Agency seeks to address the growing problem of radicalization as it relates to homeland security issues and terrorism. With the ever growing access to social media platforms and the ability to communicate with people all over the world, GEMA/HS would design a program aimed at awareness, identification, and reporting of radicalized behavior.

A local prevention framework is needed to reach all segments of the local society to ensure a variety of objectives are met. Achieving this framework requires significant and continued stakeholder engagement at the state and local level to build transparent and trusted relations among the whole of society. Such relationships reduce risk, enhance resilience, ensure information sharing, and fulfill requests for service. Building and sustaining these relationships is therefore a core goal of all prevention frameworks.

GEMA/HS would focus efforts on training law enforcement to ultimately distribute materials and engage in community partners in an in-depth training program. This would include correctional facilities, schools, and civic groups.

- Program Goals and Objectives:

The goal for this program is for the citizens of the state of Georgia to become active participants in the shared safety of their communities by identifying and reporting suspected radicalized individuals or entities before they engage in criminal activity.

With each class taught to the community, more individuals would be informed of non-biased potential extremism to be aware of when out in their communities. Having the local law enforcement agencies teach classes to their communities would foster positive community relationships as well as provide the communities a resource to report such suspicious activities.

The objectives for this program include:

The GEMA/HS Homeland Security Division would instruct 40 “Train-the-trainer” classes to state and local law enforcement partners over a two year period

The GEMA/HS Homeland Security Division would instruct 500 law enforcement trainers over the course of two years

Each new instructor will teach (2) 1 hour classes to the communities they work in over the two year period.

- Logic Model
See Attached Diagram

- Theory of Change

Georgia Emergency Management and Homeland Security Agency (GEMA/HS) is currently responsible for providing many different training programs to law enforcement, private sector, schools, and community groups. The GEMA/HS have been extremely successful in networking and engaging with top law enforcement leadership and community leaders to effect change through various training programs. Based on past results of training local law enforcement and communities, GEMA/HS is confident it could make an impact relating to awareness and identification of potential radicalization.

If GEMA/HS secures funding to develop a Georgia specific Train the Trainer course for law enforcement and create a professionally produced video, then state and local law enforcement can leverage that knowledge to enhance the awareness and identification of potentially radicalized individuals within the community.

If the local law enforcement trainers take the training to local schools, juvenile justice centers, prisons, civic organizations, and faith-based groups then they can continue to build community relationships and trust while educating the community on a critical topic such as radicalization.

If the community is educated on the topic of radicalization and understands the process of reporting and intervening and that is paired with an established and trusted relationship with law enforcement, there is a greater likelihood of intervention.

If the community is willing to intervene based on the provided training, ultimately our communities are safer from a potential terrorist attack.

- Short-term Outcomes

- Increase Community Awareness
- Build stronger law enforcement and community relationships

- Long-term Outcomes

- Safer communities
- Decrease in violent criminal acts by radicalized individuals and groups

- Outputs

- Train 500 law enforcement officers in 40 classes
- Each law enforcement trainer conducts two classes in the community

- Activities

- Four hour train-the-trainer for law enforcement
- One hour awareness training for the community

- Inputs

- Training for the GEMA/HS trainers. This will include subject matter experts in terrorism, radicalization, and curriculum design
- Video production for the TTT and community courses
- Student workbooks
- Handouts
- Travel for GEMA/HS employees to deliver the train-the-trainer course.

3. Organization and Key Personnel

The Georgia Emergency Management and Homeland Security Agency coordinates the state's preparedness, response and recovery efforts to disasters. As part of the Office of the Governor, GEMA/HS operates under the authority of the Emergency Management Act of 1981.

GEMA/HS works with local, state and federal governments, in partnership with the private sector and faith-based community, to prevent and respond to natural and man-made emergencies.

In addition, GEMA/HS employees are on 24-hour call statewide to assist local authorities when disaster strikes.

Due to the ever-increasing needs of terrorism preparedness, the Homeland Security Division has grown in personnel and programs. Services include critical infrastructure analysis, homeland security incident management and response, fire services coordination, agro-terrorism preparedness, exercise and training, intelligence gathering and analysis, and homeland security grant services.

The Homeland Security Division has also partnered with other state agencies through the Board of Homeland Security, Homeland Security Task Force and Georgia Information Sharing and Analysis Center to ensure a smooth and effective terrorism response capability.

We also work closely with our federal partners that include the Department of Homeland Security to coordinate funding, training, response and preparedness programs. The Homeland Security Division is dedicated to meeting the challenges of the future to provide a safe and well-coordinated response for the citizens of Georgia.

The Homeland Security Division is staffed with 12 sworn law enforcement officers that are assigned to the Georgia Anti-Terrorism Task Force. The task force responds to any incidents of terrorism including bomb threats, active shooter threats, and special events. The members are also well networked with law enforcement chief executives, schoolboard superintendents, and local emergency managers.

As part of the primary duties of the Homeland Security, our coordinator's conduct training for government, private sector, and communities on a variety of homeland security topics. With the rise in political tensions across the world and specifically the United States, we are seeing more individuals taking a hard stance on their beliefs. This increase of lone wolf type behavior has made it imperative that we educate our community members on how to identify signs of radicalization.

The 12 members of the Anti-Terrorism Task Force will be the subject matter experts in this topic. They will be responsible for building and implementing the law enforcement train the trainer program. Each member has 10 plus years of active law enforcement experience, and specialize in homeland security matters.

The agency will also retain external subject matter experts to help develop the curriculum. At this time the exact names of the external SMEs and curriculum designers are not known.

4. Sustainability

Once the initial courses are developed, GEMA/HS will support the TTT program as part of the regular duties of the homeland security coordinators. GEMA/HS will provide any materials or travel costs for the remainder of the project.

5. Budget Detail and Narrative

OTVTP Implementation & Measurement Plan

You should modify the Implementation & Measurement Plan (IMP) template to the number of goals your specific project requires. For each goal in the IMP, create an Implementation Plan table and a Measurement Plan table. Please use the definitions provided in the IMP guidance document when crafting your plan. Draft, in the box below, the overarching goal statement for the project. Following completion of the IMP, each grantee is expected to complete the Risk Assessment & Mitigation Plan in Appendix A.

In the Implementation Plan table:

- Type each activity in a separate row; add as many rows as needed.
- Arrange activity rows chronologically by the start date of the activity.
- This IMP should span both years of performance under this grant program.

In the Measurement Plan table:

- Type each performance measure/indicator in a separate row.
- Map each performance measure to the relevant activity
- Include indicators that will help measure the results of the project; it is not necessary to have more than one indicator if that indicator sufficiently measures results.
- Identify and/or design data collection methods to be used to obtain the data that will be reported on quarterly.
- Ensure attention to collection of data that can be broken down by sex and age of project participants or beneficiaries.
- The information in the “Performance Measures” column of the Measurement Plan should align with the information in the “Anticipated Outputs” column of your Implementation Plan

NOTE: Data collection methods should be specific and timebound. Any expenses incurred from the collection of data must come from the grant already awarded. No additional funds will be made available by DHS for this purpose.

Project Goal Statement

[Please state the overarching goal of the project as identified in your program design. This overarching goal can include language from the individual goals located within this IMP]

Georgia Emergency Management and Homeland Security Agency seeks to address the growing problem of radicalization as it relates to homeland security issues and terrorism. With the ever growing access to social media platforms and the ability to communicate with people all over the world, GEMA/HS would design a program aimed at awareness, identification, and reporting of radicalized behavior. A local prevention framework is needed to reach all segments of the local society to ensure a variety of objectives are met. Achieving this framework requires significant and continued stakeholder engagement at the state and local level to build transparent and trusted relations among the whole of society. Such relationships reduce risk, enhance resilience, ensure information sharing, and fulfill requests for service. Building and sustaining these relationships is therefore a core goal of all prevention frameworks.

GEMA/HS would focus efforts on training law enforcement to ultimately distribute materials and engage in community partners in an in-depth training program. This would include correctional facilities, schools, and civic groups

Target Population

[Please include an estimated size and demographic breakdown of expected and/or served program beneficiaries. Please include a brief description of why this particular target population has been selected.]

This community engagement would be aimed at all 159 counties across Georgia with the goal of providing actionable, community specific public information to approximately 10.75 million residents. The target population was chosen as all citizens in the State of Georgia. When you target the population as a whole, it provides the resources to identify radicalization across a broad range of belief systems. Local and State law enforcement was chosen to train the community because they know the community leaders that have the ability to push the information out to the target audience. It also provides law enforcement the opportunity to enhance and strengthen law enforcement/community trust.

Goal 1: The goal for this program is for the citizens of the state of Georgia to become active participants in the shared safety of their communities by identifying and reporting suspected radicalized individuals or entities before they engage in criminal activity.

Objective 1.1: The GEMA/HS Homeland Security Division would instruct 40 “Train-the-trainer” classes to state and local law enforcement partners over a two year period. This would equal approximately 500 officers trained

Objective 1.2: Each new instructor will teach (2) 1 hour classes to the communities they work in over the two year period.

Objectives	Activity	Inputs/Resources	Time Frame	Anticipated Outputs
Objective 1.1:	Activity 1.1.1 Conduct law enforcement train the trainer classes throughout GA	Local law enforcement attend TTT class	Q2-Q7	40 classes, 500 officers
Objective 1.2:	Activity 1.1.2 Each new trainer will conduct a minimum of two classes in two years	Local law enforcement teaches community deliverable	Q3-Q8	Minimum of 2 classes per new trainer

Goal 1 MEASUREMENT PLAN

Activity #	Performance Measures	Data Collection Method and Timeframe
1.1.1	40 train the trainer courses across the State of Georgia. Target is 20-25 students per class	We will use the GEMA/HS Training Reregistration System to track all courses conducted for state and local law enforcement. The system will be used to track until the end of the grant cycle.
1.1.2	Each law enforcement trainer will conduct a minimum of two classes in the community they represent.	New trainers will submit a course roster to the regional Homeland Security Coordinator. All information will be entered in the Training Registration System. This will occur until the end of the grant cycle.

APPENDIX A: RISK MANAGEMENT PLAN

The following risk assessment chart is designed to assist in the identification of potential occurrences that would impact achieving project objectives, primarily those originating externally and that are outside of the organization’s control. Risks could include, but are not limited to: economic, social, or political changes; changes to planned partnerships; legal or compliance changes; or other risks unique to this project. Use the chart below to identify these risks; add additional rows if necessary.

Risk Identified	Risk Analysis (brief assessment of the impact the identified risk could/would have on the project)	Risk Management Plan (plan to minimize the impact that the risk presents to the project and adjustments to be made if the risk transpires)
COVID-19 or other pandemic	Potentially could not conduct training	Could switch all curriculum to virtual training
Lack of interest from law enforcement	We would not have the needed instructors to deliver content to communities	We would utilize other government agencies and local community leaders to deliver the content
