Hey That user is also not known to us. First thought is some kind of online instigator from out of the area (although he did post some other DC events on his page). Just looked now and not seeing anything overly concerning. On post saying “we’re still mad” and “black lives still matter” but nothing much more than that.

Additionally, according to open source information, on March 11, 2021, rioters smashed windows, attempted to force entry, and set fire to the federal courthouse in Portland, Oregon, less than a day after authorities removed the security fencing erected last summer in response to the civil unrest and rioting caused by the death of George Floyd in Minneapolis, MN. According to one reporter, protesters cited the trial of Derek Chauvin and the removal of the fence was the catalyst for this riot to occur.
