[Woodall]: " I believe I take a balanced approach in what I do because I don't have any personal political agenda. I'll tell you, as long as I follow the law

I can't really worry about what people say or what they think. But if the judge doesn't follow the law, then maybe he needs to worry about what people say or what they think. I know I have always tried to be fair. I have always tried to be reasonable and I've always been honest. I believe if you do that, you can have the kind of reputation you can be proud of."
