After serving on the court of appeals for five years my country called me to a different kind of public service in Iraq, I worked to establish major crimes courts to prosecute terrorists

In Afghanistan the work was to establish new civil courts

I'm Judge Eric Levinson

Service to the people of this great country at any level is a privilege and an honor

Now I'm back home and I'm ready to go to work on the supreme court of North Carolina

I hope you'll give me that honor

[PFB] Judge Eric Levinson, North Carolina supreme court
