[Announcer]: Twenty one death row inmates, all convicted of heinous crimes.

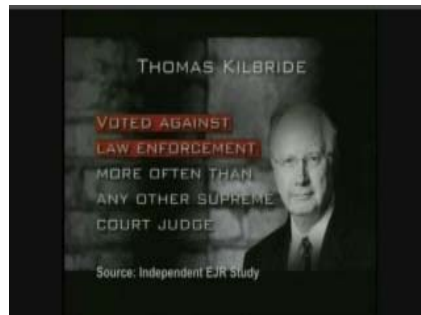

Judge Thomas Kilbride wanted to overturn each and every conviction.

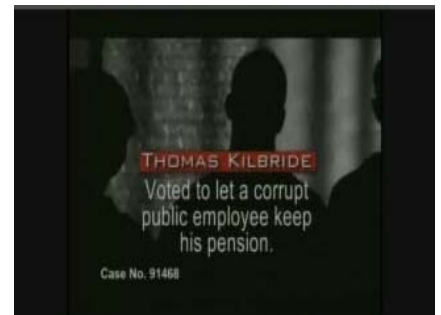

That view was so extreme, Kilbride was in the minority all twenty-one times.

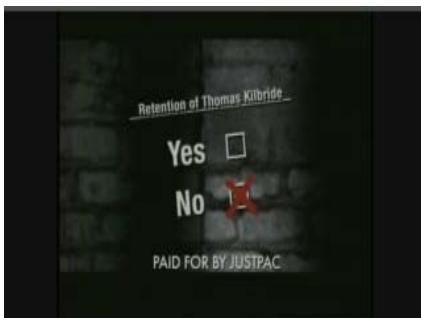

His colleagues over ruled him and the criminals remained behind bars.

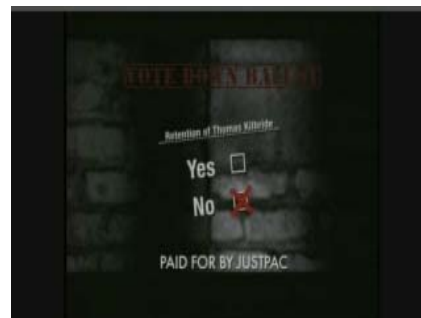

Kilbride has voted against law enforcement more often than any other judge.

And even voted to let a corrupt public employee keep his tax payer funded pension.

Now, we get to vote. Vote no on retention for Kilbride.
