

OUTLINE OF CONTENTS

|                 |     |
|-----------------|-----|
| Foreword | F-1 |
|-----------------|-----|

---

PART ONE: PRINCIPLES OF GENERAL CONCERN

Chapter One: The Constitutional Framework of *Buckley v. Valeo

---

|                                                                         |      |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|
| I. Contribution and Expenditure Limitations                             | I-2  |
| A. General Principles                                                   | I-2  |
| B. Contribution Limitations                                             | I-3  |
| 1. The $1,000 Limit on Contributions to Candidates              | I-3  |
| 2. Other Contribution Limitations                                | I-3  |
| C. Expenditure Limitations                                              | I-4  |
| 1. The $1,000 Limitation on Independent Expenditures            | I-4  |
| 2. Other Expenditure Limitations                                 | I-6  |
| II. Reporting and Disclaimer Requirements                               | I-6  |
| III. Public Financing of Presidential Election Campaigns                | I-7  |
| Buckley Reaffirmed: Nixon v. Shrink Missouri Government PAC      | I-9  |
| Giant Loophole Successfully Closed: McConnell v. FEC             | I-11 |
| I. Soft Money                                                           | I-11 |
| II. Express Advocacy, Issue Advocacy, and Electioneering Communications | I-13 |
| III. Other Holdings in McConnell                                 | I-14 |
| A. Coordination                                                         | I-15 |
| B. Miscellaneous                                                        | I-15 |
| Two Steps Forward, Now One Step Back: Randall v. Sorrell         | I-16 |
| I. Spending Limits                                                      | I-16 |
| II. Contribution Limits                                                 | I-16 |

|                                                        |      |
|--------------------------------------------------------|------|
| Chapter Two: Drafting Laws to Survive Challenge | II-1 |
| I. Legislative Findings                                | II-1 |
| II. Statutory Purposes                                 | II-3 |
| III. Clarity and Precision                             | II-4 |
| IV. Scope                                              | II-4 |
| V. Enforcement                                         | II-5 |
| VI. Red Flags                                          | II-5 |
| VII. Severability Clauses                              | II-7 |

PART TWO: DRAFTING SPECIFIC CAMPAIGN FINANCE REFORMS

|                                                                          |        |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|
| Chapter Three: The Financing of Candidates' Campaigns             | III-1  |
| I. Financial Limits on Contributions                                     | III-1  |
| A. Limits on Contributions from Individuals                              | III-2  |
| 1. First Amendment Analysis                                       | III-5  |
| 2. Equal Protection Analysis                                      | III-14 |
| B. Limits on Contributions from PACs                                     | III-15 |
| C. Political Parties                                                     | III-17 |
| D. Loans                                                                 | III-20 |
| II. Source Limits on Contributions                                       | III-21 |
| A. Geographic Limits on Contributions                                    | III-22 |
| B. Corporate and Union Contributions                                     | III-24 |
| C. Contributions from Lobbyists, Contractorsand Regulated Industries | III-26 |
| D. Government Employees                                                  | III-29 |
| E. Inter-Candidate Transfers                                             | III-30 |
| F. Bundling                                                              | III-31 |
| G. Aggregate Limits on PACs or Special Interest Sources                  | III-33 |
| III. Time Limits on Fundraising                                          | III-36 |
| A. Legislative Session Bans                                              | III-37 |
| B. Post-Election and Off-Year Fundraising Bans                           | III-41 |
| VI. Spend-Down Provisions                                                | III-43 |

|                                                                       |        |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|
| Chapter Four: The Financing of Political Organizations         | IV-1   |
| I. PACs                                                               | IV-1   |
| II. Independent Expenditure Committees                                | IV-4   |
| III. Political Parties                                                | IV-6   |
| IV. A Note on Candidate Contributions to Non-Political Organizations  | IV-12  |
| Chapter Five: Limits on Candidate Spending                     | V-1    |
| I. Voluntary Spending Limits                                          | V-1    |
| A. Contribution “Cap Gaps”                                            | V-1    |
| B. Informed Voter Provisions                                          | V-3    |
| 1. Ballot Notations                                            | V-3    |
| 2. Statements in Official Voter Pamphlets                      | V-4    |
| 3. Advertising Disclosure Requirements                         | V-5    |
| II. Mandatory Spending Limits                                         | V-6    |
| A. Candidate Self-Financing                                           | V-9    |
| B. Spending By Campaign Committees                                    | V-10   |
| Chapter Six: Limits on Independent Expenditures                | VI-1   |
| I. The General Rule: No Monetary Limits on Independent Expenditures   | VI-1   |
| II. The Lone Exception: Corporations and Unions                       | VI-6   |
| III. “Independent” vs. “Coordinated” Expenditures                     | VI-7   |
| Chapter Seven: Campaign Advertising and Issue Advocacy         | VII-1  |
| I. “Electioneering Communications” Under BCRA:The Time-Frame Test | VII-2  |
| II. Magic Words                                                       | VII-10 |
| III. The “Reasonable Person” Test and the Use of Context              | VII-12 |
| IV. The Future of the “Issue Advocacy” Loophole                       | VII-18 |

---

Chapter Eight: Reporting and Disclaimer Rules VIII-1

---

|                                                            |         |
|------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| I. Reporting Requirements                                  | VIII-1  |
| A. Reporting of Contributions and Candidates' Expenditures | VIII-7  |
| B. Reporting of Independent Expenditures                   | VIII-10 |
| II. Disclaimer Requirements                                | VIII-12 |

---

Chapter Nine: Public Financing of Candidates' Campaigns IX-1

---

|                                                                           |       |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|
| I. Full and Partial Public Funding: "Clean Money"and Matching Systems | IX-2  |
| A. Eligibility Criteria                                                   | IX-3  |
| B. Allocation of Public Funds                                             | IX-5  |
| C. Voluntary Spending Limits                                              | IX-8  |
| 1. The Legal Standard, Generally                                   | IX-11 |
| a. The Coercion Analysis                                                  | IX-11 |
| b. Application of Strict Scrutiny                                         | IX-13 |
| 2. Application of the Legal Standard to Trigger Provisions                | IX-14 |
| a. Spending by Nonparticipating Candidates                                | IX-14 |
| b. Independent Expenditures by Third Parties                              | IX-15 |
| D. Reporting Requirements                                                 | IX-17 |
| E. Administration and Enforcement                                         | IX-18 |
| F. Sources of Public Funding                                              | IX-20 |
| II. Refunds and Tax Incentives for Small Contributions                    | IX-21 |
| III. Free or Reduced-Rate TV and Radio Air Time                           | IX-22 |

---

Epilogue: A Note on Local Legislation E-1

---

APPENDICES

|                                                                                                          |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Appendix A: Chapter-by-Chapter Table of Cited Cases                                                      | A-1 |
| Appendix B: Lay Person's Guide to Federal Courts                                                         | B-1 |
| Appendix C: List of Cited Articles and Books                                                             | C-1 |
| Appendix D: Selected List of National Organizations OfferingResources for Campaign Finance Reformers | D-1 |