LETTER IN SUPPORT OF THE DEMOCRACY RESTORATION ACT (H.R. 3335 / S. 1516) FROM CIVIL RIGHTS AND OTHER ADVOCACY ORGANIZATIONS

December 10, 2009

Dear Member of Congress:

We, the undersigned organizations, a coalition of civil rights, social and criminal justice, and other legal and advocacy organizations, are writing to urge your support and co-sponsorship of the Democracy Restoration Act of 2009 (H.R. 3335/S. 1516), a bill that seeks to restore voting rights in federal elections to people who are out of prison and living in the community. The current patchwork of laws that disenfranchise people with criminal records has created an inconsistent and unfair federal electoral process, perpetuating entrenched racial discrimination. As organizations dedicated to promoting democracy and justice as well as equal rights for all Americans, we strongly support passage of this legislation.

Currently, 5.3 million American citizens are denied the right to vote because they have a criminal conviction in their past. Four million of these people are out of prison, living in the community, paying taxes and raising families, yet they remain disenfranchised for years, often decades, and sometimes for life. The United States is one of the few western democratic nations that exclude such large numbers of people from the democratic process. Congressional action is needed to restore voting rights in federal elections to the millions of Americans who have been released from incarceration, but continue to be denied their ability to fully participate in civic life. Fortunately, Senator Russell Feingold and Representative John Conyers will soon introduce the Democracy Restoration Act of 2009 which is intended to address these injustices.

Felony disenfranchisement laws are rooted in the Jim Crow era. They were enacted alongside poll taxes and literacy tests and were intended to keep African Americans from voting. By 1900, 38 states denied voting rights to people with criminal convictions, most of which disenfranchised people until they received a pardon. The intended effects of these laws continue to this day. Nationwide, 13% of African-American men have lost the right to vote. If current incarceration rates continue, three in ten of the next generation of African-American men will lose the right to vote at some point in their lifetimes. This racial disparity also impacts the families of those who are disenfranchised and the communities in which they reside by diminishing their collective political voice.

In this country voting is a national symbol of political equality and full citizenship. When a citizen is denied this right and responsibility, their standing as a full and equal member of our society is called into question. The responsibilities of citizenship – working, paying taxes and contributing to one's community – are duties conferred upon those reentering society. Further punishing individuals who are in the community by denying them a right of citizenship counters the expectation that citizens have rehabilitated themselves after a conviction. The United States should not be a country where the effects of past mistakes have countless consequences and no opportunity for renewal.

Passage of the Democracy Restoration Act of 2009 will ensure that all Americans living in the community will have the opportunity to participate in our electoral process. A strong, vibrant democracy requires the broadest possible base of voter participation and allowing all persons who have completed their prison time to vote is the best way to ensure the greatest level of participation.

We urge you to support the passage of the Democracy Restoration Act of 2009.
