SCHEDULING ORDER

THIS MATTER comes before the undersigned Three-Judge Panel upon the Plaintiffs' Motion for an Expedited Discovery and Trial and for Case Management Order. The Court, by prior order, requested the parties confer in good faith and report to the Court on January 29, 2019 with proposed scheduling order dates. The parties were unable to agree, and significant disparity remained in the respective positions of the parties in their proposed schedules. As such, the Court enters the following schedule.

It is ORDERED that all dispositive motions shall be heard on June 7, 2019. It is further ordered that the trial in this matter shall commenced July 15, 2019. Based upon these dates, the parties are ordered to again confer in good faith to establish a proposed scheduling order detailing discovery deadlines, briefing deadlines, and such other matters as may be appropriate to facilitate the management of this case and report back to the court by February 15, 2019 with, if possible, a joint-proposed case management order or, in the alternative, the parties' respective positions with respect to any ongoing disagreements thereto.

So ORDERED, this the 1st day of February, 2019.
